

The strange faces we see every day—not a few, but many, at the hotel, at the business houses, upon the streets, quite conversational, eager about many affairs and full of enquiry, indicate there is a very favorable impression abroad concerning Hartford and the county surrounding it; for the fact of their being here as the agents of business houses, capitalists of the large cities East, West, North and South, is prima facie evidence of the notoriety this county has and the high estimation in which we are held abroad; of the capital she yields and the vast amount of business transacted here. This is all very well, and shows what has been done; but, at the same time, is proof of what may be done far in relevance of the present condition of things. A little effort has done much to advance our character abroad and inspired our citizens with commendable energy and pride of house. How much more can be done to enlarge trade, increase population and give to labor employment, can not be answered now, for no man can see what our future may be with all the advantages that cluster about us, but that ten times the business will easily be done and ten times as many workmen employed may very safely be predicted, with the same energy and enterprize that exists in points similarly situated. There could be large manufactories of plows, doing extensive business for home and abroad; cooper establishments, supplying pork and flour barrels, lard kegs and tobacco hogsheads; slaughter houses, affording a market for all the hogs raised in the county. This is a good point for the purchase, pricing and sale of tobacco, and infinitely better than the markets of other places so far as that and usually so uncer-

We are having very large congregations. Our house of worship here, being rather small, has nightly been crowded to its utmost capacity, leaving a large part of the audience out of doors, which, though the nights are not very cold, is unpleasant. So, after being overthrown several times, people coming in from the countryside from the surrounding country, we have been obliged to hire a large house on Main street, kindly offered to us by Mrs. Evans, of this place. Since the move we still have an increase in the assembly and the interest of the meeting. On last evening there were fifteen penitents at the altar, while quite a number manifested some interest. Up to this writing nine persons have been converted and four have joined the M. E. church. Quite a change has come over Leicester. The saloon keepers have few customers, and we anticipate receiving quite a number of the friends into the Murphy movement just as soon as the revival meeting closes. Have had but little help ministerially; have preached nineteen sermons, and run occupied most of the time, of days, visiting the many friends, and then call to fill the vacancies extended, and Mr. Edlin, you may well suppose we are tiring out. I am not, though we do not always wear "the purple and the lily." The many lectures upon the studies are too numerous to mention, but among the means you may be sure the chicken finds a place. You know hawks are bad at first, but the Crows (Crow families) are worse on them here than the hawks.

Bro. James, from Becla, is with us at present, rendering efficient service as an exhorter, and also takes the meat of the chicken houses about as completely as an old hawk at the business.

I received the Murphy pledges ordered by you at the assembly, in good order. I hope to see them up very soon and call for more. With his for your success and happiness, we remain,

Yours ever,
J. C. PENDER

mines that Enoch Boone was the first white child born in Kentucky. He mentions that in 1776, at his birth-day. Collins' History of Kentucky, vol. 1, page 513, (the large edition) says: "Enoch Boone * * * * * was born in a cuckrube near Boone's-borough, November 16, 1777. He died February 8, 1862, aged 84, on the bank of the Ohio river, in Meigs county, near his residence of his son-in-law, Judge Collins." Many persons believed him to be the first child born in Kentucky; and yet it is not improbable that fifteen were born earlier."

On the same page and the page preceding are given the names of three males and six females, who were born in Kentucky more than five months earlier than Enoch Boone, viz:

1. Harrod Wilson, born at Harrodsburg in 1776.
5. William Hinton, born at Harrodsburg in 1776.
3. Cheneat Hart, daughter of Col. Nathaniel Hart, born at Boushorough, probably in 1776.
4. A daughter of Daniel Boone, born at Boushorough, probably in 1776.
5. Louisa Whitley, daughter of Col. Wm. Whitley, born at Logan's Station, near Stanford, February 25, 1776. She married Mr. McKinney, removed in Missouri in 1819, and died February 14, 1893, aged 77.
6. Eliska Vaughn, daughter of Col. John Holder, born at Boone's-borough in 1776 or early in 1777. She died at Lexington, in June, 1869, aged 87.
7. Judge William Logan, eldest son of Gen. James Logan, born in Harrodsburg, Harrodsburg, December 8, 1776. He was circuit judge of the first of Appeals, U. S. Senator in 1819-20, and when he died, at 47, was looked forward to as the next Governor.
8. Ann Poague, was born in the district at Harrodsburg, April 20, 1777. She married her relative, Gen. John Poague, and died at his residence in Meigs county, Kentucky, in 1849, aged 70.

photograph of Harrison and wife, and every child in town who knew him while he recognized it as H. H. May. Had he been successful in continuing his career there is scarcely any doubt but that he would have had as many wives as Brigham Young; and there is good reason to suppose that he was endeavoring to make his way to Salt Lake City, where it is considered no harm to have as many wives as a man wishes, or at least as many as he can take care of.

Young ladies are not swarming, and always know something of the man whom you marry.

We sometimes venture too much, but when we take into consideration that our good old Mother Eve, the illustrious prototype of her sex, standing in the garden of Eden, surrounded by Crawford pears, Isabella grapes, Bartlett pears, Damson plums and Jersey pippins, was discontented till she had sampled those choice Baldwins, brought sin into the world, and yanked Adam out of Paradise, we are not surprised at anything. Since that time men have sweet and swore, worked early and late; gone ragged and staid, worn purple and level, cheated, lied, and have proved to satisfy the insatiable wants of woman. Through feminine disobedience the entire thrash of sin have been so closely interwoven in the human fabric that it is impossible to say: "Oh! could I stand where Adam stood, and with the Tempter grapple, Xet Satan's wiles, nor woman's smiles, Creation's curse, and all my troubles cease."

Business is looking up considerably in Caneyville. Tobacco, though bringing a very low price, has commenced moving. John Claggett, Jr., has returned home to his father's place on the farm Danville, where he has attending school.

Several of our young and married ladies have gone to Spring Lick to attend to the business of the season.

The citizens are making preparations for a merry Christmas, and fat turkeys and ducks are in great demand.

VEGETINE HAS ENTIRELY CURED ME.

Boston, October 1876.

My H. H. Stevens,

Dear Sir—My daughter, after having a severe attack of Whooping Cough, was left in a feeble condition, and unable to walk, and by a friend she tried the VEGETINE, and after using a few bottles was fully restored to health.

I have since purchased a few more from Rheumatism. I have taken several bottles of the Vegetine for this complaint, and am happy to say that it has cured me.

I have also recommended the Vegetine to others with the same good results. It is a great cleanser of the blood; it is pleasant to take, and I can cheerfully recommend it.

JAMES MURFEE, 364 Athens St.

VEGETINE IS A DYNAMIC OF THE BLOOD.

The blood is the life, is found to contain an excess of phlog. VEGETINE acts by converting the blood from its diseased condition to a healthy circulation. Vegetine regulates the blood, and cures all diseases of the blood complaint. (the bottle of Vegetine will give relief, but to effect a permanent cure it must be taken regularly, and must be taken several bottles, especially in cases of long standing. Vegetine is sold by all druggists. Try it, and you will be cured.) I have used it several weeks before you, who say, "I never found so much relief as from the use of Vegetine," and which is compared exclusively of Brake, Root, and Herbs.

"VEGETINE," says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Having of its many wonderful cures. I verified the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine virtue. It is prepared from bark, root, and herbs, each ingredient being carefully analyzed, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE.
NOTHING EQUAL TO IT.

South Salem, Mass, Nov. 14, 1876.

My H. H. Stevens—

Dear Sir—I have been troubled with Stomach, Spleen and Liver complaint for three years; nothing ever did me any good until I commenced using VEGETINE. I am now getting along first rate, and will using the Vegetine. I consider there is nothing else that will do me any good. I can now recommend it to everybody. Yours, truly,

Mrs. LIZZIE M. FAULKNER,

To Prevent and Cure Coughs and Colds.

A reliable remedy is necessary in every household. Parker's Ginger Tonic is just the medicine needed. It radically cures coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, and even consumption, if used in time, by the powerful specific action on the stomach, kidneys, skin, liver, and mucous surface of the throat and lungs. In this natural way it cleanses the waste matters from the blood, builds up the tissues, fortifies the system against further attacks, and permanently allays inflammation of the throat, lungs, and other organs. It is a powerful invigorant, and affords just the help that the aged, the feeble, and the convalescent require, because it restores perfect digestion and enjoyment of the food, enriches the blood, and arouses the dormant energies of the debilitated organs. It cures dyspepsia with its varied symptoms of headache, weakness, sour stomach, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, liver complaint, palpitation of the heart, etc., and while it never intoxicates nor creates any desire for stimulants, it diffuses warmth and vigor through the system, renews the appetite, soothes the nerves, launches melanchole, and gives strength and elasticity to the worn out frame. Buy a $1.00 bottle from your druggist, Z. Wayne Griffin, Hartford, Ky., and test its extraordinary merits.

Antiseptic Remedies.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boscawen's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and to all ailments of the lungs, throat, and chest. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor suffering consumptive, at least to try one bottle. As 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular bottles 75 cents.

THE HARTFORD CHRISTMAS TREE.

Last Monday night will long be held in remembrance by the entire populace of Hartford, and more especially by the young people. As was announced some time ago in the Herald, there would be a Christmas tree at the courthouse on the night named above, and since that time grand preparations have been made to make the tree surpass anything of like nature that had ever before come off in Hartford—and it did.

The youths of the town have for some time been in the highest glee and their faces were lit up with smiles as they thought and dreamed of the happy future for them, in which untold tokens of remembrance would be distributed among them. Nor by any means was the distribution of presents confined to the little folks, for scores and scores of the most valuable and highly acceptable presents were called for and conveyed to those who have reached mature years.

An attempt to name one-tenth part of the presents that so tastefully decorated the evergreen would prove a complete failure on our part, and so our special artist, after more than a whole night of hard labor, has succeeded in engraving a representative cut, but should there be any deficiencies in it, those who saw the tree will know he was lacking in time to do ample justice. Here is his effort.

[Engraved by our Special Artist]

The pleasure of the night opened with the beautiful song entitled "Merry, Merry Christmas Eve," which was well rendered by the Hartford choir, and the conclusion of which "Old Santa" appeared, and his comicalities were the source of much mirth the remainder of the evening. The committee made a good selection in "Old Santa," as one more appropriate could not have been found.

To make the whole thing a perfect success, and to add much grace and beauty to the whole, the most lovely of carols were selected as songs, which were more than Misses Dollie Hardwick, Nettie Miller, Logan Walker and Mamie Williams, and it was really amusing to see the boys smile when their names were called and they would see those winning creatures making for them with their merry faces, and their little feet, etc., which had been long waiting for their "Holidays."

The ladies who had charge of "unbeautifying" the tree all looked lovely, and their rose tinted cheeks were but interpreters of their merriment. They greeted the part over which they presided.

In short, it was a perfect success, and was creditable to all concerned.

OLD MAIDS' BUSINESS.

Spry and spry, and dry and dry, All this, you call to be; How much is truth, how much is lie, Let others say, not me.

They call me too, a prude, Tall and straight and pure; Although this riddle extremely rude, I'll try it all, to be.

They say I'm ugly, old and ill, With a few more to say; Let them say what they will, All this, old maids define.

For we, like the Jews, "A little and a little more;" They say we're never young; A trade, greatly below par, But after all, they'll take and more— They'll never call me "Miser!"

Do you think I'm really "Miser?" No name, no rhyme with "Jennie;" If true, I'd like to be a Jew, Provided with some; But oh, don't give me a "Balaam Sars"— Now, with the "Fishes," Old Maids.

"Ye olden time" is exemplified in the old Western Farmer's Almanac, which has made its appearance for 1878 on our tables as bright, entertaining and vigorous as ever, notwithstanding Time has added another to its ball century of years. Among the many original articles we may mention "Going out to Farm," by the versatile humorist, M. Quid. It is a laughable sketch. "Agricultural Chemistry," from the pen of Prof. Robert Peter, one of, if not the ablest writer on such subjects in America, is of interest to all who till the soil for pleasure or for profit. "Wheat and Wheat Land of America," by Duncan, is another well-written and valuable article. In short, all are meritorious and valuable. In the selected matter there is a little of everything. Even the mottoes which line the margins of the pages are a fund of amusement and instruction in themselves. It is an easy and cheap way to make your fireside cheery through the tedious hours of a winter's night. The present number also contains the time of meeting of all the courts in Kentucky. Ten cents will bring it to you. John P. Morton & Co., publishers, Louisville, Ky.

Married.

"Wedlock's joys are soft and sweet, When two hearts in union meet.

The County Clerk took in the interesting situation and politely arranged the legal requirements, and the ceremony at Hyman's altar by the Rev. G. J. Bean soon made the twin one, and Boston Spinks and Eliza Likens are now Mr. and Mrs. Spinks. Capt. Cox assures us the marriage, though not a brilliant one, was quiet and pleasant and full of future promise.

Santa Claus' Picture.

When old Santa Claus came to town to dispense his toys and gifts to the little ones, he lit on top of the Court House, and left his sleigh and team of reindeer and packed himself up with nice things, and went down the chimney into the House, and gave them to the young ladies there to put on the Christmas tree. Just as he was getting ready to start down the chimney our special artist, who was on the watch for him, caught sight of him and at once sketched down his picture, and here it is exact:

SANTA CLAUS.

Christmas gift to every body.

Testimonial.

HARTFORD, Ky., Dec. 25, 1877.

Mr. JOHN K. WILLIAMS.
SIR:—Having some time since purchased one of Wilson's Shuttle Sewing Machines, No. 9, for my wife, the general satisfaction it has given in every particular induced me to add my endorsement to the numerous testimonials of its excellence as a machine for general family use. I deem it infinitely superior to any machine now in the market. It is handsome in appearance, substantial in structure and exquisite in finish, being a beautiful ornament and at the same time a perfect, useful and indispensable necessity. It is equal to all the requirements of manufacturing and family work, sewing with equal rapidity, strength and neatness the heaviest leather and the delicate fabric. It runs with ease, and its speed is one-third more rapid than any other machine in use, and the variety of work it is capable of accomplishing, makes it the most complete of machines. As a hemmer, filler, binder, tucker, quilter, braider, ruller, corset, lamer, etc., it has no superior; besides I find other advantages, which, to enumerate, would swell this note to extraordinary dimensions. I cannot, however, refrain from mentioning the neat and ingenious attachment for filling the bottoms without having to remove the work from under the needle.

With many wishes for your success with a machine that is all, in every respect, that is claimed for it.

I remain, respectfully,
A. H. CHAMBERS.

PUBLIC SALE OF LAND.

Ohio Circuit Court.

Frank Griffin's Adm., Plffs., vs. Frank Griffin's heirs, Defts.

By virtue of a judgment of this court rendered in this case at the November term, 1877, thereof 1, as Special Commissioner of said court in said case, will offer for sale the said land ordered by said judgment to be sold, consisting of a tract of 400 acres lying in Ohio County, Ky., on Rough creek, a short distance above Hartford, Ky. Said land will first be offered by lots—having been divided into three lots—and then it will be all offered in one lot, and the bid most advantageous for the estate will be accepted. The sale will take place at the front door at the courthouse in Hartford, by public auction, to the highest bidder, on Monday, the 1st day of January, 1878, on a credit of six, twelve and eighteen months, or equal parts of the purchase money, or so much of said land will be sold as may be necessary to make the sum of $8,075.46. The purchaser will be required to execute bond with good security, payable to the Commissioner, bearing interest from date until paid, and to have the force and effect of a judgment. A lien will also be retained on the land as additional security.

Special Com'r. Ohio Cir. Court, Hartford, Ky., Dec. 15, 1877.

Beaver Dam Item.

One of the newest and most interesting attractions at Beaver Dam is the new store of Baer Bros. & Co. They have a well selected stock of dry goods, notions, dress goods, fancy articles, underwear, boots and shoes, hats, clothing, etc., etc. They also are now receiving a splendid stock of groceries. All of these goods have been bought for cash under the pressure of the times by experienced purchasers, and hence bought very low—and listen: they are determined to sell them the same way. All they ask to convince you of this fact, is a trial. Respectfully,
BAER BROS. & CO.

Our friend and former townsman, Dr. Luvega Berry, now of Yazoo City, Miss., is in town, visiting friends and relatives.

Thirty-five years of business experience ought to teach a man how to conduct business right. Julius Winter & Co., S. E. cor. 3rd and Market sts., Louisville, Ky., have been engaged in the manufacture of clothing and merchant tailor business for that length of time successfully, purchase your supply of clothes from them and you will be honestly dealt with.

Taken up by Wiley B. Robinson, living about three miles east of Rockport, Ohio county, Ky., one corral horse about one year old last spring, with some white in face, snip on the nose, light hind foot white, hip and right hip; no other marks or brand visible. Appraised at ten dollars by W. M. Southard. Given under my hand this 27th day of November, 1877. D. J. WILCOX.

The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for Consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine. S. & Dr. Schenck's Almanac, which can be had of any druggist free of charge, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability who have been restored to health after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these certificates will show. The cure is often pronounced by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the time the use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any case of Consumption may be cured. Every moment of delay makes your cure more difficult, and all depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are an agreeable and safe cure for Constipation, enlarged bowels, and also for relief from nervous and coated tongue. There is no better remedy for disordered stomach and all the evils resulting therefrom. Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. Schenck's Medicines are for sale by all druggists. 148-lm
